TUBEROUS BEGONIAS

Gladiolus and Dahlias have for generations provided our sunlit gardens with vivid colors to which modern horticulture is adding every year new shades and color combinations. For the shaded gardens the Tuberous Begonias now provide an equally amazing range of vivid colors — they are growing rapidly in popularity. And they are easy to grow, too.

Plant indoors in a warm place in February or March in moist sand or peat moss just covering the bulb. Pot up when well sprouted in a mixture of peat moss, humus or soil. Plant outdoors after danger of frost has passed. They do best in northern locations where they are shaded much of the day. Prepare soil carefully and add liberal quantities of peat moss or well decayed leaves. Keep well watered and fertilized. Store in late fall in a dry place during the winter.

PETAMINE

A Complete Balanced Diet to be Fed Daily Throughout the Year.

What Petamine does for Canaries: Peps them up, increases song; adds color and sheen to feathers, and keeps them in fine, vigorous condition.

Restores lost song and feathers and cures many ailments when due to faulty diets.

Makes moulting easier and faster and plumage more brilliant and colorful.

Works wonders during breeding season, produces more fertile eggs, finer, sturdier young birds.

Petamine may be used as the exclusive diet or with mixed whole seeds. Recommended for all cage birds.

5 oz. 35c; lb. 70c; 2 lbs. $1.30

GROWING INSTRUCTIONS FOR GLADIOLUS

Plant in good loamy soil about 4 inches deep as soon as frost danger is past. Plant about 6 inches apart in rows a convenient distance apart.

Treatment—Due to the presence of thrip in all parts of the U. S. it is advisable to treat before planting regardless of where purchased. Soak the bulbs in a lysol solution three to six hours and then plant. Solution of four teaspoons per gallon of water. When bulbs are six inches high dust with a 50% D.D.T. powder or spray, whichever is most convenient. This should be done about every 10 days until they show color.
